FOREWORD

It is our purpose to cast a beacon light of joyous rays down the aisles of the future by presenting this year's happy school-days for your remembrance!

-The Staff-

EDICATION

To The Spirit of Texas

It's there – in song of mocking bird
As he trills at early break of day.
It's found in tones of lowing herds
Or the bleat of frisky lambs at play.
Where flowers bloom on hill and plain,
Or where in the sunshine's brilliant ray
Fields of blue border country lane –
And children's laughter adds noise so gay.

It's in the busy engine's hum
As ships ply back and forth from the sea;
And in the ocean's roaring wave,
Or softer cadence of humming bee.
In friendly custom night and day
It speaks through handshake and hearty smile,
To cheer the stranger on his way
Or brighten the path of friends awhile.

It's there – spirit of friendliness!
To play the game, or to lead the band;
To inspire the heart and to bless
Brave homes, happy firesides of the land!

J. WALTER BAKER SUPERINTENDENT

BREMOND, TEXAS

February 14, 1949

To the Seniors of 1949:

In the year 1939 I came to Bremond as school superintendent. That year you were in the second grade. I recall my first visit to your room. I wondered then what the next decade would bring.

Since that time, ten years ago, a terrible war has been fought Life is not the same as it was that gloomy November day we met. Tod the world is looking to the high school graduates of this age for the leaders of tomorrow. How well you shape the future of a torn world will depend upon how well you are prepared to face its mighty problems.

Your friend,

Timeless the Surge

- Faye Carr Adams

The Texas dead shall ever lie in state
Within the heart, enshrined on honored bier;
They are the soldier, settler, pioneer,
The valiant mothers, sons – all Texas' great;
Their lifeblood mingled in one vast estate
To sire an empire pushing from frontier –
To root the faith whose silent strength is clear
Their flowing blood has measured Texas' fate.

And the Texas brand, brands men clean and deep,
The great Lone Star on maverick and son;
Intense and virile, matchless as the land,
Timeless the surge full in the heart will run,
And all who share their heritage will keep
Credence with blood – proud of their Texas brand.
